

PACT BETWEEN GOVERNMENT

government that the United States must act and act quickly if the Monroe doctrine was to be maintained. American interests in Mexico naturally fall in the United States for protection under their doctrine.

The Mexican interests in the region, however, are not to be compared with the American capital invested there, so after all, the moves being about must happen conditions in Mexico has to be kept parity with American interests.

Just as yet, the Diaz government has played in recent events but not yet been discussed. From time to time meetings have been made to Washington regarding the violation of the neutrality law in the border.

Such meetings, however, are not necessarily called except a name as has been used toward Texas and the Mexican frontier during the last forty-eight hours. It is understood, indeed, that the Mexican government may have intended to keep its power's neutrality to put an end to the disorders as long as such was deemed to be the revolutionary forces of the former states.

Whatever the case, the discussions have not yet been there to determine the course of the administration to take the movement or groups in mystery.

The Mexican government, whether it would be of the government or not has not been given the 30-day notice. It could possibly have done so.

Herbert Objects.

Washington, D. C., March 10.—Herbert A. Herbert, secretary of the navy under President Cleveland, made a statement here last night in which he denounces the opening of a new chapter in American history.

He asks whether, if the United States is to undertake the protection and care of the new states, up or down, of European monarchies, whether it does not need to prove a number, not less than thirty, antagonisms with European nations in these efforts to see the outcome of independence, when our fathers did the same.

Madero Successful.

El Paso, Texas, March 10.—Francisco I. Madero and his forces are again reported in possession of the city of Chihuahua having recaptured it from the federalists yesterday. He is easily pressed by the rebels, however, and fighting is still in progress.

CANNING FACTORY

The following men were appointed to act as the committee on agriculture: Dr. L. L. Chapman, Wm. McLean, A. C. Hixson, Solomon Benjamin, D. R. Gossard, D. A. Porterfield, D. K. McElroy, A. B. Strong and A. C. Ogle.

Mr. Barth has called a meeting of the committee to meet in his office tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock and asked that the committee come prepared to go immediately out after the necessary arrangements at the conclusion of the meeting. The finance committee has not yet been appointed.

Instead of going back to Denver today as anticipated, Mr. Green will remain over Sunday and in making the necessary preliminary arrangements.

It was after 10 o'clock when the railroad proposition was taken up but after an enthusiastic address by H. B. Ferguson, which convinced all who might previously have been otherwise minded that the proposed railroad was one of the greatest fortunes that Albuquerque could ever dream of, unanimous action was taken towards furthering the proposition. The president of the commercial club was appointed to attend the banquet of Farmington, which is set as the final step towards final action in the railroad matter. The fact was brought out in the closing of a delegate to the banquet that it would take over $100 in railroad rate and a week to go and emphasized the need of better communication between here and the sister city.

The following were made directors of the new road: H. B. Ferguson, J. A. Brooks, P. K. P. Sellers and J. G. Brandon.

The sum of Mr. Ferguson's argument was that not only were the previous barriers all removed, but many new and favorable conditions exist now that never existed before. JOHN M. MOORE,

M'DONALD STILL ALIVE

Discreased British Army Officer Is Drilling Chinese Army Troops.

San Francisco, March 10.—According to a report brought in by the oriental liner Asia, Gen. Hector Macdonald, formerly of the British army, who was supposed to have committed suicide in Paris in a lodging house in 1902, is engaged in drilling troops of the Chinese army.

Officers of the Asia learned the story, they said, from officers of the British cruiser Kent, not at Hongkong, who got word of Macdonald's whereabouts while on the oriental station recently.

Gen. Macdonald was a soldier who had seen service under the British in India many lands. At the height of his career he was created from India to answer a grave charge. He got as far as Paris and the world was startled with a report that he had committed suicide. The charges, however, were investigated, and the board of inquiry found that he had been a victim of a scoundrel.

At various other times Gen. Macdonald had been reported seen in Australia, Thibet and Siberia. These reports, however, were never verified.
